

The American Heart Association Heartsaver CPR-AED certificates do not specifically state that adult CPR skills were included because that is the default certification. They feel it is implied, so they don't specify that it is included. I can understand how this can cause confusion, but I have no ability to change the American Heart Association's certificates.

To help clarify with your employer that your training did include Adult CPR-AED training, I have included the American Heart Association course descriptions, with the link to website for further verification, and a course agenda.

For additional clarification, you may also contact the American Heart Association customer service department directly at: 1-877-AHA-4CPR or 1-877-242-4277

I apologize for the inconvenience this has caused you. Please let me know if I can further assist you.
